Home Politics Politics News January 9, 2020 4:23 PM ET The battle for the 2020 White House Collector's Edition Chess Set. Screenshot/mychess2020.com From weirdos you brought ped egg foot filer, Brass Bullet indeterable pocket hose, and Egg Sitter support pillow comes from another crazy product: the 2020 Battle for the White House Collector's Edition Chess Set. It's a souvenir, commercial promises that will cherish for generations and proudly display in your home. And at just $99 (plus $9.99 in shipping and handling), you can also turn family political fights into chess riveting games with the game's Presidential Edition. Or, you can choose Standard or Deluxe versions for $39.99 and $59.98 respectively. Republicans and Democrats face each other on this chess set, representing party leaders on both sides and serving as pawns in the parties' animal mascots, elephants and donkeys. The product's website claims that each chess stone is handsomely designed with incredible details. And to make you think they're lying, a person in the ad and on the website carefully paints a piece by hand. There are so many quirks to choose from with this product, but we've cut it down to the top five: while Trump and Pence are kings and queens of the Republican set, Democratic presidential candidates are represented by empty podiums. Because democratic candidates are not yet known, the ad says, you'll now get two empty podiums to play on. After the candidate is selected, you will be notified to obtain the final pieces to complete your set. But beware, if you want parts that represent real Democratic candidates, you'll have to pay an indefinite separate fee. Other party leaders are also represented. House Speaker Nancy Pelosi and other congressional leaders are knights pictured riding party symbols. Or, as the commercial says, legislative leaders Pelosi, McConnell, Schumer and McCarthy-knights riding symbolic donkeys and elephants! Former presidents and vice presidents Obama and Biden, as well as Bush and Cheney serve as strongholds. The bishops of Judges Roberts, Ginsburg, Sotomayor and Kavanaugh are holding vigils to protect the Supreme Court and moving to protect the Constitution diagonally. If you really want to get fancy, a gold-tone upgrade version is also available. Upgrade your chesstones to the classic gold tone that adds a touch of luxury to the board. Without a doubt, this is the version that Trump himself will buy. But he's going to give you an extra $19.99. And, of course, it comes with an individual numbered certificate of authenticity! Because you just know that. these versions are popping up everywhere. ISpot.tv, an analytics company that monitors commercial ad purchases, Telebrands Corp., the company that makes the chess set, spent about $153,000 to run those ads between December 23 and today, generating about 17.6 million impressions. The ad has been posted 292 times since June 2019. The ad continues to depict smiling families, happily playing chess. The Granddaughter of a grandmother and grandfather playing in the Republican side high five is a college-year-old young man sitting next to him considering the democrats' next move. Interestingly, and perhaps reflecting American voters, he's an old white man who always plays the Republican side against a young Democratic opponent in the ad. We have reached out to Telebrands Corp. to ask about the sales numbers and will update this story if we hear back. If you're still getting rid of domestic political fights at Christmas, you can always order this chess set to de-escalate tensions at your next family meeting. You can yell at your grandfather about Medicare for All while Sotomayor buys the bishop's Mike Pence queen! Queen!
